ESituation Overview

The National Security and Intelligence Advisor provided an overview of the current situation.

In Ottawa, the situation remains largely unchanged. As of February 10th: 10 new trucks departed, 25 arrests made, 126 open investigations, and 1550 tickets issued. The Ottawa 911 call centre was shut down as a result of prank calls. Threats on social media persist and it continues to be used as a planning tool, with the possibility of driving by Sussex Drive and driving by local schools discussed. The RCMP Commissioner added that engagement continues with the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) and Ottawa Police Service (OPS). The RCMP has provided all resources requested by the OPS. OPP resources have also been provided and there is good cooperation between the OPP and RCMP. There are indications that some protesters would like to leave but are unable to do so given physical barriers. An integrated planning cell is developing a plan of action and the preference remains to continue moving forward with negotiations, with enforcement actions to start early next week if negotiations remain unsuccessful. A surge and contain strategy will be employed for the upcoming weekend.

In Alberta, the situation also remains largely unchanged, with migration occurring to a different designated location. One lane is open in both directions. The RCMP Commissioner added that enforcement continues with significant fines. A pastor who incited some protesters to remain at the primary location was arrested. The number of protestors had dropped from 250 to 40; however, those remaining are firmly entrenched in their views, and there are weapons on site. Coutts is unable to get tow trucks to assist in enforcement; all those approached have refused to help. The Commissioner noted that RCMP contract policing officers are being deployed to the area from within the province and from BC.

In Manitoba, at Emerson there is a 1.5km blockade. The RCMP Commissioner noted that plainclothes officers are monitoring the situation. There have been discussions about allowing shipments of animals to cross the border, and some shipments have gone through. She noted that Emerson is not as busy as other PoEs.

At the Ambassador Bridge, following the first arrest for dangerous driving, behaviour is becoming more aggressive.

Bluewater remains at play. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have invoked their Emergencies Acts.

In Northwest Territories there are rumours of blockades with the Alberta border. In British Columbia there are unconfirmed rumours of two convoys.

s. 38 CEA

The Minister of Public Safety indicated that we are seeing an increase in systematic targeting and coordination rather than ad hoc protests. Despite best efforts, security has not yet been restored including at the border (Ambassador Bridge, Emerson, Coutts). CQPC

CQPC

The Minister indicated that the Mayor of Windsor remains cautiously optimistic and has advised that enforcement actions will begin shortly. There is a broader challenge with law enforcement, some of whom may be sympathetic to the protesters' cause, resulting in reluctance to enforce. CQPC

CQPC

The Commissioner of the RCMP indicated that Windsor remains the number one priority. As of 15:15 hours on February 10th there were 250 people and 100 vehicles. 100 OPP officers were on-site and 36 Windsor police officers. The Commissioner confirmed that the OPP has taken over incident command. The RCMP has deployed a public order team which will arrive tonight. There is a plan in place that will see protesters removed tomorrow morning.

Canada Border Services Agency reported that at the Ambassador Bridge, protesters appear focused on inbound traffic rather than border crossing. It has not affected staff being able to work at the Port of Entry (POE).

CQPC

Specific Actions at Key Locations

The Prime Minister set up the conversation to discuss two possible tracks: 1) actions that could be taken under existing authorities, and 2) the process of invoking the Emergencies Act.

CQPC

CQPC

Public Safety Canada reported on a conversation with the lead negotiator (OPP) who noted that in Ottawa, approximately 80% of protestors had a weak connection to the cause, 5% had a strong devotion to it, and 15% were a swing factor. The negotiator suggested that the leaders of the protest could potentially be encouraged to leave and denounce the blockade in exchange for a commitment to register their message with the

EStrategic Situation OverviewAperçu de la situation stratégique

The National Security Intelligence Advisor provided a strategical situational overview, with the weekend bringing more people to some protests. Multiple ports of entry (POEs) are now experiencing blockages and "slow roll" vehicle activity has been an effective tactic. The latest tactic being used is to take children to the site to prevent police activity, as well as schools walking out to join the protest, or "slow rolls" through neighbourhoods with schools. Protesters are increasingly harnessing social media.

CQPC

In terms of specifics, the National Security Intelligence Advisor reported that the situation in Windsor remains very fluid with Law enforcement having begun to take action. In Ottawa we are seeing a significant escalation in the boldness of protesters. Social media continues to play an active role in the communication and organization of protesters across the country.

Operational UpdatesMise à jour sur les opérationsThe Minister of Public Safety CQPC

CQPC

CQPC

There appear to be two distinct movements involved in the blockades. The first is relatively harmless and happy with a strong relationship to faith communities. The second is more concerning and comprised of harder extremists trying to undermine government institutions and law enforcement. There are increasing reports of ex-military and ex-CAF members who are advising and instructing on the blockades.

In terms of specifics, the Minister of Public Safety indicated that in Fort Erie traffic appears to be moving well and is starting to disperse. In Emerson and Coutts there are a decreasing number of vehicles on side and despite blockages there are allowances for commercial trade. There appears to be a lack of a plan in Ottawa, with the Chief of Ottawa Police Service (OPS) having yet to approve the plan developed with the RCMP and OPP. During the discussion, confirmation was obtained that the OPS Chief of police accepted the plan and the Commissioner of the RCMP agreed to be able to provide additional details of the plan at the next call.

In Windsor, at approximately 11:00 hrs, police had to stall enforcement because of additional protesters on site. The most recent intelligence indicates there are approximately 500 protesters onsite right now, outnumbering police, and protesters are beginning to pool in adjacent parking lots. Enforcement action has begun in Windsor with ticketing and towing on Huron Church road which is the main road off the Ambassador bridge.

The Commissioner of the RCMP reported that the situation is evolving hour by hour. OPP is tracking protests in other areas including Thunder Bay and the GTA. In Windsor, notice was provided to protesters that they must cease blocking streets or face charges, but this notice needs to be followed up with enforcement actions. As of 09:00 hrs, some individuals had started to leave voluntarily but enforcement actions remain ongoing. At the Essex railway a decision was taken to remove railway equipment. At the Ambassador bridge there are over 500 protesters, no reports of injuries or arrests. Approximately 56 RCMP members are onsite along with 120 OPP members to support the Windsor Police. Following negotiations, the OPP delivered a letter signed by the Ontario Government to agree to meet protesters for constructive dialogue, contingent on the protests ending. The protesters did not accept this offer.

In Cornwall, there are 75 protesters onsite with 20-25 vehicles. Protesters are not on the bridge and traffic is moving in both directions. Police are present but there has not been a request to the RCMP for additional staff, and OPP and Akwesasne Police are on hand to support as needed.

In Ottawa, the Commissioner reported having a meeting with the OPS Chief and OPP Commissioner and noted that the mood on the ground has shifted to more hostility towards police. There are approximately 350 protesters on Parliament Hill and 400 on Wellington street with increased protest activities onsite. A number of additional convoys are reportedly travelling to Ottawa primarily from Quebec and the Sureté du Québec is monitoring this. There continue to be challenges working with the Integrated Planning Team in Ottawa around communication and decisively of the OPS Chief. Every request made by the OPS has been fulfilled with RCMP personnel exceeding the 250 agreed upon in the MOU.

In Coutts, the number of vehicles has been reduced from 250 to 40 but the situation continues to evolve. The operation is focused on assessing risks and engagement is ongoing with the Premier and with other Government officials. CBSA is assisting with traffic at the border and temporarily suspended commercial activity as of 13:00 hrs. The situation in Coutts is unique and there are heightened risks to safety of persons including police, including indications of weapons on site.

In Emerson, the POE remains open. There are approximately 35 vehicles and 20 individuals onsite. At other POEs, including in BC and NS, seem to be under control and not impacting traffic or Port operations at this time.

CQPC

The Prime Minister asked for an update on other POEs and what is being done to prevent further disruptions. The Minister of Public Safety and President of CBSA confirmed that there is real time reporting in all critical POEs and ongoing engagement with local law enforcement. If an authority or asset gap is identified, departments remain ready to respond. Currently it remains only the three blocked POEs. There was an attempt to block the Pacific Highway but police successfully thwarted this attempt.

The Minister of Transport confirmed that he is working with agencies or authorities of strategic infrastructure including airports, POEs and rail. Discussions to date have surfaced a potential need to ensure increased law enforcement presence at critical infrastructures to dissuade further protests. Transportation of dangerous goods enforcement officers are working with the OPS on enforcing laws where vehicles may be transporting fuel without proper licensing and some tickets have been issued. The Minister confirmed that he is working with provinces on securing tow trucks and that Alberta is looking to purchase at least 2 large tow trucks. Other provinces have been offered support to facilitate purchase agreements or services relating to tow trucks but have shown interest to date.

CQPC

CQPC

On POEs, the Minister confirmed that he spoke to Manitoba and offered assistance and support and Manitoba indicated a sense that police were adequately managing the situations in Emerson and Winnipeg, the latter of which is seeing protests outside of their provincial legislature.

The Minister of Intergovernmental Affairs, Infrastructure and Communities provided an update on his engagement with provinces and territories

The Prime Minister turned to the Minister of Public Safety to outline additional actions that could be taken by federal authorities to deal with and prevent further blockades. The Minister noted that great progress had been made in clearing and securing the Ambassador Bridge, but that there was no definitive timeline for reopening. CQPC

CQPC Enforcement actions are also occurring at other points of entry (POEs) including Coutts and Emerson. CQPC

The establishment of an Integrated Central Command (ICC) in Ottawa to coordinate the response from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), the Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) and the Ottawa Police Service (OPS) is also a significant and concrete action. CQPC

CQPC At the Blue Water crossing in Sarnia, the Canadian Border Services Agency (CBSA) has also doubled its capacity for commercial vehicles, allowing carriers additional corridors for cross-border trade.

CQPC

The Prime Minister made clear that there has been engagement with other orders of government leading the response to the situation to offer resources and support. He underscored how over the last few days there had been four meetings of the Incident Response Group to discuss the tools available to local police authorities in Windsor and Ottawa and those available to the RCMP in border locations across the country where they are the police of jurisdiction. He explained to Cabinet that the Incident Response Group explored measures to enhance the powers of law enforcement agents on the ground to enhance action, relieve Canadians and distressed communities and address the disruptions to the economy.

Situational UpdateMise à jour de la situation

The National Security and Intelligence Advisor provided ministers with an overview of the situation in Canada

CQPC

there are multiple Ports of Entry that continue to experience blockages, despite the success of law enforcement in Windsor as they disbursed the blockade from the Ambassador Bridge. The National Security and Intelligence Advisor informed minister that, overall, social media continues to play an active role in the communication and organization of protesters across the country and that the tactic of using slow roll vehicle activity seems to have been effective. She noted that the threat picture with respect to Ideologically Motivated Violent Extremism remains stable and unchanged. And that the Canadian Security and Intelligence Service continues to watch persons of interest. With respect to recent actions, the National Security and Intelligence Advisor indicated that law enforcement gains have been important and that there was potential for a breakthrough in Ottawa, Ontario and that the RCMP was taking enforcement action in Coutts, Alberta. Additionally, she noted that the RCMP is assisting in various impacted areas across the country and is focused on areas where enforcement or the risk of escalation is most acute.
